

2020-2021 Annual Theme

This marks our second year of continuing with the theme of "Just Nourishment" to examine the ways that anti-Blackness pervades our food system at various scales – rendering uneven health outcomes and life chances – and to center an anti-racist praxis in identifying (nourishing) modes of collective healing.

Launch of the 2020-21 State of the Tucson Food System Report: Assessing the Impacts of the COVID-19 Pandemic in Southern Arizona

Friday, May 7th from 1:30-3:00 pm

Visit Zoom to register and CRFS for more information.

Join us for the launch event of the 2020-21 State of the Tucson Food System Report. The authors will present an overview of the report followed by an open discussion and Q&A with three panelists who contributed to the report. This year's report draws upon 8 months of qualitative research regarding the impacts of COVID-19 on the local food system in southern Arizona. The overarching goal of the study is to gain an understanding of COVID-19's impacts on food and agriculture in our region to support the development of a local food system that is more resilient to social, economic, and environmental stressors and disruptions. The research project is a collaboration between the Climate Assessment for the Southwest (CLIMAS) and the Center for Regional Studies at the University of Arizona.

Good Food Film Series 2021

CRFS is co-sponsoring Local First Arizona's yearlong Good Film Series. A new, independent short film showcasing Arizona's food system will be released the second Tuesday of each month through February 2022.

From seed to plate, and the many stops in between, the Good Food Film Series brings the societal challenges facing the farming and food community across Arizona and food access stories to your preferred viewing screen. These are stories of the often unseen heroes, doing the good work of not only growing and providing healthy, fresh food to our communities but also taking bold environmental and food sovereignty action to create a more sustainable and just local food system.

CRFS Job Opportunity

Graduate Research Assistant

The Center for Regional Food Studies (CRFS) and the Climate Assessment for the Southwest (CLIMAS) seek a University of Arizona graduate student for employment as a graduate research assistant (GRA) for the 2021-22 academic year to support the ongoing research project, "Building Resilience in Southern Arizona's Local Food System."

In collaboration with PIs Dr. Gigi Owen (CLIMAS) and Dr. Laurel Bellante (CRFS and School of Geography Development and Environment) and other research team members, this position will build on current research related to building resilience and equity in the local food system of southern Arizona. GRA tasks will vary based on the needs of the research team and may include the following:

1. Conduct qualitative, semi-structured interviews and data collection with food system actors and researchers
2. Conduct participant observation at different food production, processing, and/or distribution sites in southern Arizona
3. Coordinate focus groups, workshops, and communications with working group members
4. Compile and review existing food systems research and data, as well as future risk scenarios for the southern Arizona region
5. Assist in data analysis for and writing of a strategic resilience plan, policy briefs, and other publications.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities:

Required: Strong written, verbal, and social skills. Experience with qualitative interviewing, participant observation, literature reviews, and data analysis. Ability to work independently on tasks but also work collaboratively with the research team and working group members.

Desired: Interest or experience in food systems or agriculture. Quantitative data analysis and data visualization skills are a plus. Experience using social media platforms to convey research findings.

Pay Range and Hours: Pay commensurate with departmental pay rates; .5 FTE GRA includes tuition and benefits. 20 hrs./week for fall 2021 and spring 2022 semesters with a possibility to extend through summer 2022.

Application Materials:

To apply, send a 1-page statement of interest, your CV, and contact information for 2 references as a PDF file. You may also include an optional writing sample or other example of previous work. Please send your application materials to gigi@arizona.edu.

Review of applications will begin on May 10th and the position will remain open until filled.

CRFS Research Awards - Call for Applications

Description

The UA Center for Regional Food Studies (CRFS) is offering up to 3 awards of $500 to any UA graduate or undergraduate student in support of food-related research or educational activities over the summer 2021. Funds can be used to cover tuition costs or other expenses related to the successful completion of planned academic work related to food during summer 2021.

If awarded funding, recipients will be expected to:

- File a 1-page summary describing how the funds helped to support your academic goals and/or research.
- Share a 15–20-minute oral presentation at a CRFS event in the fall semester 2021.

Eligibility

UA students from all departments, disciplines and backgrounds are encouraged to apply.

How to apply

Please submit the following as one PDF to assistant director, Dr. Laurel Bellante, by email at: bellante@email.arizona.edu by May 21st, 2021.

- Basic information, including full name; mailing address; phone number; email address; UA Net ID and student ID number
- A current resume or CV
- A one-page essay briefly describing how funding will support your educational goals and/or research. Please describe what research, projects, and/or coursework is planned and how financial support will be used to enable those activities. Financial need will be taken into consideration in the review of applications.
- As part of your application, please articulate how your current research or program of study aligns with the mission and goals of CRFS (see our website: <https://crfs.arizona.edu/>)

Notification process

Candidates who apply will be notified by June 1st and funds will be disbursed within 6 weeks of award notification.

Applications due Friday, May 21st, 2021

Undergrad Internship Opportunities

FOOD 393 Summer Internship Opportunities

Are you looking to earn academic credit this summer while also acquiring new life experiences and job skills? Consider applying for one of these internship opportunities (FOOD393)

- Local First Arizona - Local First Arizona Foundation (LFA) is a non-profit organization that is building opportunities in Arizona. LFA is an award-winning organization focused on community and economic development throughout the state in order to build self-sufficient, healthy, and prosperous communities.

- UA Garden Kitchen - The Garden Kitchen, located in the heart of South Tucson, is a seed-to-table nutrition education program of the University of Arizona's Pima County Cooperative Extension.
- Mission Gardens - Mission Garden is an ancient agricultural site, farmed continuously for more than 4,000 years. Today it is an agricultural heritage museum interpreting and celebrating the multicultural history of Tucson through a series of Timeline Gardens.
- Pivot Produce - Pivot is a produce distribution/warehousing company which sources produce from southern Arizona small scale farms to restaurants and consumers in the Tucson area.
- Iskashitaa Refugee Network - Iskashitaa Refugee Network creates opportunities to integrate UN refugees into the Southern Arizona community while educating the public, strengthening the local food system, reducing local food waste, and increasing food security. The network focuses on harvesting and gleaning food from local sources and backyard gardens that would otherwise go to waste.

Note: FOOD 393 Internships are also available in Fall and Spring semesters

Fall Internships with the Whetstone Prison Project

The Whetstone Prison Project (WPP) aims to work towards a lowered recidivism rate for the people of Arizona. The WPP works toward this goal by bringing quality environmental education AND updated housing resources to current inmates in the Arizona Department of Corrections at the Whetstone Unit. Remotely AND/OR in hybrid, UA students contribute to teaching at Whetstone OR developing updated housing resources.

Other internship role possibilities may be developed for the Fall 2021 semester. The primary goal of the WPP is to teach current inmates within the Whetstone Unit about overarching environmental concepts and build a connection between inmates and local community resources.

An intern at the WPP will develop skills in communication, big picture planning, educating, and critical thinking. This is the second year implementing internship positions. This means each position description is flexible and needs interns who are self-starters and team players who can also work independently.

Interns on this project will be a part of one of the three following teams:

Housing Resource Development:

An intern on this team will be focused on researching and developing updated housing resources available to people exiting prison. This includes contacting transitional housing resources for information and communicating with other reentry groups to best serve the needs of people exiting prison. We need students who are interested in research and communication.

Curriculum and Teaching:

An intern on this team will be focused on creating and teaching environmentally focused lesson plans such as gardening, energy, climate change, and environmental social justice. We need students who are interested in building content, teaching, and interacting with inmates.

Scope and Sequence:

An intern on this team will be focused on researching and developing educational curriculum and materials to support future interns of the project. This team may work with community organizations to develop certificate programs at Whetstone. We need students who are interested in research, curriculum development, and community outreach.

NOTE: These are the three definite positions, however we are open for discussion on creating additional positions if they will help facilitate overall growth of the project and align with our goals.

Please do not be afraid to apply because you think you do not have the desired traits! This is a teaching and learning experience for everyone involved. We want to see you grow. We want interns who care about making a difference and are willing to do the work, the rest can be learned through our internship.

UA Campus Pantry

Please Remember to Support our Campus Pantry

The mission of the UA Campus Pantry is to alleviate hunger in the UA Wildcat community by providing food assistance to those in need. On average, 1 in 3 college students experience food insecurity at some point in their academic career. The Campus Pantry helps to reduce this statistic by providing supplemental groceries to students in need. In addition, food insecurity looks different for all students. Sometimes it can be a lack of access to transportation, lack of financial resources or simply not having enough or nutritious foods.

For more information, including how to donate, please visit the Campus Pantry website.
